Steihl, Judge J.C., House (TEX-3121)
(Etario Club)

Structure

Fannin at Franklin St. Half-timber with brick infilling, three-bay front, one story, gabled roof; shallow hipped roof entrance porch. The hewn cedar timbers with wooden pin connections are typical of German "fachwerk" in central Texas. Built c.1852 by Judge J.C. Stiehl, this small house was owned by a literary study club in the 1930s and is now used as a library. 4 ext. photos (1936); 1 data page (1937).

Card prepared July 1975.

Recorded as Etario through 1937.
